

Academic Support Resources

This document is designed to help students, faculty members, and staff identify supportive resources to assist students with their academics. Use the hyperlinks and information to navigate to specific resources and offices to learn more.

DEPARTMENT OF ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES (DAS)

 404.727.9877

Registration with DAS enables students with disabilities to receive support related to needed accommodations.

Forms, Documentation Requirements, Example Accommodations, and FAQs are available on the DAS website.

DAS is committed to advancing an accessible and "barrier-free" environment for the Emory community, ensuring that the principles of access, equity, inclusion, and learning are realized.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE SUPPORT PROGRAM (ELSP)

 404.727.8075

Elective offerings include courses and workshop series focused on graduate-level writing, oral communication for academic contexts, intercultural communication, and more.

One-on-one language consultations available with English Language Specialists who work exclusively with LGS graduate students and Emory postdoctoral research fellows.

Contact Heather Boldt, hboldt@emory.edu

STUDENT DIGITAL LIFE

 ats.emory.edu/sdl

Student Tech Support is available in Woodruff Library to troubleshoot Wi-Fi, software, and hardware issues.

Video/Audio Production Studios, Specialized Software, Reservable Study Spaces, the TechLab Makerspace, and the ArtsLab visual arts studio are also available to support both students' academic needs and creative pursuits.

Academic Support Resources

EMORY WRITING CENTER (EWC) SUPPORT

[writingcenter
@emory.edu](mailto:writingcenter@emory.edu)

Individual Consultations are available with peer and professional writing tutors to support projects across disciplines, including course papers, dissertation chapters, conference proposals, articles, teaching materials, applications, and more.

Dissertation Boot Camps are hosted several times each year to empower participants' goal setting and writing in a supportive environment.

Weekly Writing Groups are co-hosted with the LGS English Language Support Program. Participants meet with fellow graduate students for two hours of writing sprints, making progress on their writing projects within a supportive community.

Employment and Fellowship Opportunities are offered by the Writing Center. Dissertation completion fellowships are available each year, and hourly writing tutor positions open on a rolling basis. These provide opportunities for LGS students to professionalize as an educator and mentor.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT & SCHOLAR SERVICES (ISSS)

404.727.3300

International Student and Scholar Services serves Emory's international students, scholars, and global community. The office aspires to be a comprehensive resource for Emory's international community.

Information about Getting a Student Visa, Understanding Immigration Documents, and Information about Maintaining Legal Status can be found here.

Assistance navigating interpersonal conflicts including improprieties or unfairness are offered, as well as guidance on University policies and procedures.

Informal mediation through facilitated discussions for individuals experiencing interpersonal issues are provided.

Offering confidential assistance navigating interpersonal conflicts, ethical issues, and grievances, as well as guidance on University policies and procedures. Also provides informal conflict resolution options such as mediation, facilitated conversations, and coaching. We are not a mandatory reporter.

OMBUDS OFFICE

404.727.1531